Residents Irked At Closing Of Center

Ballardvale residents were "shocked and very upset" to find the Ballardvale Community Center had been closed, one resident told selectmen Tuesday night.

"We thought the town was committed to repairing the building," said Sherron Heller of 48 Tewksbury Street, "and all of a sudden it was condemned, and we're told it's falling apart."

"People are very upset that promises were made and not kept," Heller added. "We'd like to know what you plan on doing."

Before Heller spoke, the selectmen had already placed the Ballardvale topic on the agenda for next Monday night's conference session.

The closing of the building was not on Tuesday night's agenda, and selectman Norma Gammon told Heller the selectmen had not yet discussed it.

Chairman Edward Harris said the board had received "two letters and one lengthy telephone call" about the closing.

Selectman Susan Poore, however, said she was surprised to learn the building had been closed. "The last time it was discussed, commitments were made," she told Heller. "But apparently a lot has happened since then."

"I am shocked that I didn't know about this the day it happened," Poore said.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said the building inspector closed the building for safety reasons on Feb. 13 immediately following an inspection.

In a letter to the selectmen, Heller proposed that an article be introduced to town meeting for the appropriation of funds for the Ballardvale library and community center.

She cited the "historical importance" of the library in her letter, saying, "The strong sense of community that the library imparts to the residents of Ballardvale is a very important part of our neighborhood."

However, selectman Poore pointed out that there is no "identifiable cohesive group in Ballardvale that we can talk to about this, as there was at one time."

"That doesn't mean there is no interest," Heller answered. "People are very concerned. This happened overnight and most people were not aware of the closing until they found the signs on the door."

Selectman Lawrence Sullivan suggested that Heller "bring a gang of people to our conference session next week."

"I will," Heller replied. "We'll be there."

Election Tuesday

It's Our Turn Next

With the first-in-the-nation primary results in from New Hampshire with some dramatic turns in the Republican picture, the Presidential sweepstakes shifts to Massachusetts next week.

The Presidential primary will be held Tuesday in what can be Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's first victory in his bid to upset President Carter.

But what the nation will be watching is the GOP race after Gov. Ronald Reagan's stunning victory over George Bush in the New Hampshire primary on Tuesday.

In Andover, voters will cast ballots at the Dunn gymnasium at Andover High school from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. The one voting location is for all precincts in town.

Enrolled voters will be given their party ballot as they are checked off at the polling place. Unenrolled, or independent, voters may obtain either a Democrat or Republican ballot as they enter, thus becoming enrolled in that party. But, they can also obtain a card at the polling place which, when returned to the town clerk's office will once again reinstate their independent status.

To be voted on Tuesday will be Presidential preference, election of a state committeeman and committeewoman in both parties, and election of the Democrat and Republican town committeemen.

Mrs. Alice Harris, wife of Chairman Edward M. Harris of the board of selectmen, is seeking election as the state committeewoman for the First Essex and Middlesex senatorial district, which represents three precincts in Andover, as well as the towns of Wilmington, North Reading, Boxford and other county areas.

A one-way traffic pattern will be established for voters on Tuesday. Going to the polls, persons should use the Raytheon Company with its West Andover plant remains Andover's top taxpayer, but there were some shifts in the listing of the top ten contributors to Andover's municipal welfare this year.

Raytheon which has maintained the top spot for all but a couple of years since its coming to Andover 25 years ago, paid $841,849.50 in taxes on its property valued at $13,164,600. The firm will doubtless remain in the leadership category, insured by a major addition to the plant currently under construction.

The Gillette Co. in Lowell Junction, which briefly held the top position while Raytheon moved from its Shawsheen quarters to West Andover, held to second place with a $463,104. tax bill on its property assessed at $7,236,000.

The fiscal 1980 tax listing by Assessor William H. Russell shows Phillips Academy dropping down from fifth to seventh, being replaced by Cressey-Dockham, the wholesale food plant in Lowell Junction. Cressey-Dockham, with start of construction of an addition this past year, moved up with its property now valued at $2,600,700, and taxes of $166,444.80.

Phillips Academy, now seventh, had its property of $2,169,800, real estate and personal property of $85,000 taxed for $138,867.20 and $5,440 respectively.

Back on the list this year with its addition and renovation, is the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn. Their total property valued at $2,181,200, produced taxes of $139,308.80, and is eighth on the list. Dropping out of the top ten this year is the Colonial Drive apartment complex off South Main street.

There could be some substantial shifts in another year in the top ten listing, as some of the major industrial plants under construction come on the tax rolls.

While there is considerable industrial construction at present, the property is taxed, according to statute, on its condition as of Jan. 1 of the tax year.

In third place on the list is the Ninety-Three Building Trust, which is Arkwright/Boston Insurance, owners of the Andover Technological Park in West Andover where Hewlett-Packard is located. The tax bill is $419,732.80 for their property valued at $6,602,900.

Massachusetts Electric Co., with most of its taxes based on personal property holdings, is in fourth place with a total tax bill of $284,105.20 on valuation of $4,595,400.

Following Cressey-Dockham is the Shetland Properties, former Raytheon and American Woolen property in Shawsheen, with $2,588,700 in valuation and $165,676.80 in taxes.

Rounding out the top ten are Bay State Gas Co., with a tax bill of $138,752 on its $2,168,000 worth of personal property and Sebago-Andover Realty Trust, the Brockway Smith building off Dascomb Road with taxes of $139,769 on property assessed as $2,058,900.

The town's total valuation increased $9,379,900 this past year, increasing from

Finding The Bus And Parking

A recent League of Women Voters' Forum on Transportation showed a need for the public to be aware of the routes of our public bus transit, and the availability of parking in conjunction with the various modes of transit.

For our local service which connects us with Lawrence and North Andover, and by transfer to Methuen and Haverhill, the route travels Main Street from Lawrence, circling downtown via Central and Chestnut Streets, and Elm Street from North Andover. At 5:35, 6:35, 7:40, 8:40, 9:40, 10:40, 12:40, 1:40, 2:40, 3:40 and 5 p.m., the bus leaves from in front of the Musgrove building for North Andover via Elm Street. In has come to the Musgrove building along Main Street from Lawrence during the 15 minutes before the downtown departure time (except for the 12:40, which arrives from Lawrence at 11:40, with an hour lay-over for lunch). One using this bus to get to Andover would board on the West side of Main street; to North Andover, on the South side of Elm. At 6:20, 7:20, 8:20, 9:20, 10:20, 11:20, 1:20, 2:20, 3:20, 4:20 and 5:20, a bus leaves the same Musgrove boarding point for Lawrence. It has arrived from North Andover, with stops on the North side of Elm Street and will travel north on Main Street with stops on the East side of the street. (Again, the bus arriving from North Andover at 12:20 lays-over for lunch until 1:20).

Snuff Boxes

When the Capitol was rebuilt after it was burned by the British during the War of 1812, snuff boxes were placed on each side of the presiding officer's desk in the Senate. These are still filled with fresh snuff every day.

The intercity service provided by Trombly Motor Coach Service to Boston makes its in-bound stops in Andover at Shawsheen Square, Shawsheen Plaza, Railroad Avenue, Elm Square, Morton Street, Salem Street, Bancroft Road, Ballardvale Road, Rocky Hill Road, and Santina's. In-bound the stops are on the West side, with the Downtown stop at Macartney's; outbound the stops are on the East side, with the downtown stop at the Musgrove Building.

Parking for both of these services on an all-day basis is available at the Railroad Avenue area with two lots: One is between the railroad and the street as marked, opposite the older portion of Tyer Rubber Co. Also, on the opposite side of the street the former cement factory land is available for parking. This parking is shared with train commuters.

Downtown there is a lot on Pearson Street opposite Friendly's, and the Shattuck lot on Park Street behind the cleaning store. Further south, the Boston service has commuter parking privileges at the Faith Lutheran Church on Main Street by Ballardvale Road.

Handicapped and elderly have their own transit system available weekdays by 24

Johnson Formally Appointed

James F. Johnson was formally appointed Andover's new police chief Tuesday night.

Selectmen confirmed the appointment made by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark.

The new chief, who replaced David L. Nicoll, will be sworn in Friday morning when he officially becomes the town's chief law enforcement agent under civil service regulations. The date coincides with Nicoll's official retirement date.

Joining the new chief as he was congratulated by selectmmen Tuesday night was his wife, Kathleen, and two daughters, Kelly, 12 and Colleen 14.

Voter Registration Deadline

Tuesday, March 4, will be the final day for registration of new voters for the annual town election and participation in town meeting.

Special registration sessions have been set by the board of registrars to assist those wishing to enroll.

On Saturday, March 1, a special session will run from 12 noon to 8 p.m. in town hall and on Tuesday, March 4, the final day, registration will take place throughout the day until 10p.m. in town hall.

Persons may register any day at the town clerk's office during regular working hours.

Those registering should bring proof of residence, such as a tax bill or utility bill.

Booth Named To Council

The selectmen have voted to appoint James A. Booth as Andover's representative to the Community Action Council. Booth was appointed to the position by the town manager several months ago.

The Community Action Council is a federal agency that oversees low income and poverty programs.

In addition to Andover, the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council serves Reading, North Reading, North Andover, and Lawrence.

Walk-a-Thon Gets OK

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah will conduct a walk-a-thon through Andover starting at 10 a.m. Monday, April 21.

The selectmen have approved the walk-a-thon, providing Hadassah makes satisfactory arrangements with the owners of Shawsheen Plaza, where the walk will begin, and the Andover Police Department.

From Shawsheen Plaza, the walk will proceed up Main street to Hidden Road, on to Porter Road, arrive at 34 Alden Road, and then proceed back to Shawsheen Plaza by the same route.

The rain date for the walk-a-thon is Sunday, April 27.

Benefit Road Races Approved

Two road races will be run through Andover during May, for the Exchange Club of Lawrence and the Andover School of Montessori.

The selectmen have approved the Exchange Club race for May 25, beginning at 10:30 a.m. It will start at the Lawrence Industrial Park, proceed to Andover along Andover street, on to North street to Chandler road, to Beacon street, and back to Lawrence.

The MONTessori race, sponsored by Macartney's, will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 3, to raise funds to support the school.

The 5.8 mile race will begin at Central Park in front of the Doherty school.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark told the selectmen that both organizations are responsible for making "satisfactory arrangements" with the Andover Police Department. No police overtime would be necessary, he added.

The Montessori race organizers must also make arrangements with the Department of Community Services.

Asbestos Removal Requested

Sandy Chateaufneuf, representing the handicapped for the Resource Bank, appeared before the school building committee last week to ask that asbestos be removed from West Jr. High during planned renovations.

Committee chairman Kenneth Gropper explained that removing asbestos "can't be considered part of new building but is a repair, and therefore does not come under our purview."

However, the committee voted to send a letter to School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert, asking what plans school administration may have for removing the asbestos, and if the building committee is included in those plans.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark pointed out that the amount of asbestos at West Jr. High, found mostly in corridor walls, is below state safety levels and that the health risk is low.

The lobby of the Andover Savings Bank will be open for all voters to meet and talk informally with candidates running for local office on March 24.

Candidates Coffees are a traditional voter service of the League of Women Voters. It is a prelude to the March 18 Candidates Night, a question and answer type forum between voters and election hopefuls.

The Andover Savings Bank which regularly offers coffee and doughnuts to Saturday morning customers and visitors, is again providing this year's chance to have coffee and chat with the candidates.

Kear To Address Chamber

Rhys Kear, director of Andover's Department of Community Development has accepted the invitation of the Andover Center Merchants to speak at the "Center Merchants of the Year" Award Dinner scheduled for Wednesday, March 5, at the Lanam Club, according to Chairman Amy W. Bernardin.

"We are very excited about Kear's acceptance which will compliment the prestigious occasion of presenting an award to one of Andover's dedicated leaders in the business community," commented Miss Bernardin.

A social hour will begin at 6 and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The business portion of the evening will start at 8:15 p.m. Reservations are now being accepted and should be made directly through the Chamber of Commerce office.

Better Mileage

Avoid unnecessary accelerating, braking and tailgating. Start and drive at a smooth and steady pace. Anticipate traffic flow 10 to 12 seconds ahead and maintain a two to three-second buffer space between your car and those around you.

Past recipients of the award will judge the final decision of the 1980 nominee and the presentation will be made by last year's winner, Louis C. Pfeifle. Francis J. McBride, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce will also be on the program with Chairman Amy Bernardin.

To Trace History Of Cotton Manufacturing

Makers of the famous Boott Mills Towels and Toweling, Scrim and Curtains; Oxford in white and colors.

When the Andover Historical Society presents its slide show on "Cotton Manufacturing in New England" next Sunday, March 2, at 2 p.m. and at 3 p.m. at the Blanchard House, 97 Main St., it will do far more than show 100 pictures and the accompanying script describing the history of the textile mills along the Merrimack.

This presentation will also outline the first significant emergence of the industrial revolution in America. This was a revolution in source of power and its transmission, in production technology, in the base materials employed and a revolution also in both the lifestyle of native Americans and of the many thousands of immigrant mill workers.

As the presentation will show, the real beginning of cotton manufacturing, which was to become New England's leading industry, occurred in 1822 near the Pawtucket Falls of the Merrimack River in what is now called Lowell.

There the key to mechanical power was harnessing the force in the drop of water level. Power was controlled and transmitted by a system of dams, canals, gates and water wheels. In the mills the recently invented machines were driven by a combination of shafts, gears, pulleys and belts.

Lowell became a center of many other innovative technologies. An ample supply of cotton, made feasible by the cotton gin, arrived on the 27-mile Middlesex Canal from Boston. The new mills housed newly developed spinning frames and power looms. Lowell had its own machine shop to build spindles and looms. Local farms furnished the labor. Boston financiers provided the capital. All the ingredients for a mass-production complex came together in one place for the first time in American history.

The initial success of this complicated experiment in industrialization brought great expansion first to Lowell and then to numerous other rural locations along the Merrimack such as Lawrence and Manchester.

Lowell soon outgrew its local labor supply but wave after wave of immigration from Canada and from Europe took care of that problem. Since the new workers created a housing shortage, the mills even built boarding houses for some of their employees.

At its peak early in this century, it is estimated that Lowell and some 25,000 textile workers operating about 20,000 looms and using a million spindles. The farming community near the falls in the Merrimack became an industrial metropolis of over 100,000 people.

This slide show was prepared by Frederick Flather and George Glennis of the Andover Historical Society. The public is invited to see and hear about the pioneering development of textile manufacturing in Lowell, Lawrence and Manchester. There is no admission charge.

39 YEARS OLD AND HOLDING.

When asked his age, the late, great Jack Benny's reply was as predictable as the morning sun. . . "39 of course". We know that Mr. Benny was kidding and we know that no matter what we do, 40 is right around the corner and then 50 and 60. And we also know that those later years could be tough without a sound retirement plan. At Andover Savings Bank, no matter what your age, we can help you plan for retirement with a high interest bearing IRA (Individual Retirement Account). If, for example, you're not presently eligible for your company's qualified pension plan, or your company doesn't offer one, then a high yielding, tax-deferred IRA Account is just what you need because it lets you save on personal taxes now and save for your personal retirement at the same time.

So, no matter what your age, call Andover Savings Today at 475-6103 for complete information on personal retirement planning and remember. . . it's not how old you are, it's how old you feel.

P.S. If you're a self-employed individual, and are interested in personal retirement planning, ask about the Andover Savings Bank KEOGH Plan.

Commuter Rail Service

To: Secretary of Transportation Barry Locke:

I am a member of the Andover Rail Committee and have been active in Andover affairs for many years. I read in The Andover Townsman of February 14, 1980, page, 7, the following material attributed to you:

"In the process of the meeting, Secretary of Transportation, Barry Locke People Do Care!

To the Editor of The TOWNSMAN: So often we hear of the things that people Don't do — here is an account of something people Do do.

Last Friday was a day of slippery roads, and along about 5 p.m. Argilla was really icing up.

Our house is situated in the middle of one of the curves. While my family and I were waiting for supper a high school girl skidded into one of our trees. My husband ran out as the girl was getting out of the car and brought her into the house.

Though she required 4 stitches in her chin, and was very upset, she was physically sound. While we waited for her family to come for her, and for the tow truck for the car, we watched a dozen or more people stop their cars and run over to the wrecked car and look inside. When they realized no one was in the car, they drove on - without showing any curiosity as to the damage. They were all concerned with getting someone out had there been anyone in the car.

Three days later, the teen-age driver, arrived at our front door to let us know that she was all right and she handed us a box of freshly baked butterscotch squares with a thank you note.

Isn't it nice to live in a town with people who DO CARE!

Mrs. R. J. Pelrine
87 Argilla Rd.
Andover

pointed to the recently re-instated commuter rail services, and indicated that such extension of service are all on an "experimental basis," with the ridership of the service deciding whether or not the state will continue its almost complete funding of the service.

Locke noted, "There are too many other uses for that money if people are not going to use the service. We will give it a time to run and generate business, but if the business isn't there, we would be hard-pressed to keep the funding up."

I can understand your concern, and I have citizen concern, that the ridership in some way justify the service.

Yet, I think it unfair and unjust to suggest that a failure of ridership would be due to the indifference of the potential commuters along the way served by commuter rail. Commuter rail management — whether it be the MBTA, MVRTA, or the Boston and Maine Railroad, or all combined — must also share responsibility for commuter interest in rail travel to Boston. Only if commuter rail management (and I should add also commuter rail unionism) meets its responsibility so that the commuters have no reasonable and legitimate gripe about the quality of service, can you fairly conclude a lack of patronage amounts to a lack of interest.

The Andover Rail Committee and many others have constantly advised that a well-planned advertising program, to run a considerable period of time, be undertaken in the press and on the radio of the communities involved to sell the service. This suggestion is over a year old. Nothing has been done by management. The Andover Rail Committee offers its cooperation.

There is no response.

The equipment and number of trains per day from Haverhill to Boston and return, is much better than when service ended in April 1976. But even the better equipment tried the patience of loyal commuters when the early evening return of trains broke down five successive nights one week and four nights the following week, with unbelievable delays for those trains and the trains following behind them. That the morning trains are on time

New Concept Opens Monday

Tom DiLiegro

Tom DiLiegro, 36, an Andover resident will be the manager of Heartland, Jr., Food Warehouse, the former Purity Supreme store off Park street, when it reopens Monday at 10 a.m.

DiLiegro was introduced along with the new concept in supermarket shopping by Leo Kahn, president of Purity Supreme Monday night at the renovated Park street building.

Heartland Jr., is a smaller version of the concept successfully introduced throughout New England by Purity. Feature of the operation is offering low prices achieved by economies of operation and carrying only those items on which manufacturers and processors offer special values.

DiLiegro has been in the supermarket business for the past 20 years. The Tiffany Lane resident began his career with Purity in May 1977 as a produce clerk and six months later was named produce manager. In January, 1978, he was transferred to the Purity Supreme in Cambridge as customer service manager and a year later was named assistant manager of the Woburn store. Prior to joining Purity, he managed four stores with a small independent chain.

The Andover Heartland Jr. has much less space than the larger Heartlands that preceded them. Because of the limited space, in the meat department, for example, they will only carry hamburger, fresh chickens, sausage, smoked meats, hot dogs, bacon and other processed meats and cold cuts.

An extensive variety of unwrapped fruits and vegetables will be displayed. The shoppers will select from bulk displays of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The best selling ice cream and frozen food varieties as well as all popular milk and dairy products will be for sale at substantial savings. The dry grocery variety will be very similar to that in the large Heartland stores, but the displays will not be as large.

Each Heartland Jr. Warehouse store will have eight electronic scanning cash registers with the name of each item as well as its price and size on the register tape.

Store hours will be Monday 10 to 9; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday 9 to 9; and Saturday 9 to 6:30.

To Provide Project Information

To familiarize the townspeople with their activities, the school building committee plans to develop a written synopsis of their work and in time to circulate it with the warrant for Town Meeting.

During last week's meeting, the committee also agreed to provide speakers to describe their activities to local groups upon request.

Since the spring of 1978, the committee has been studying the need for modifications of East Jr. High School, West Jr. High School, and the high school and working with architect, Gerry Dion of Perley F. Gilbert Associates to develop plans for the schools.

Auxiliary Plans Program

The Bon Secours Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor a Morning Coffee and Pysanky Egg Decorating Demonstration on Tuesday, March 11 at 9:30a.m. in the Hospital Auditorium.

Mary Ellen Foulds of North Andover, a Pysanky expert, will demonstrate the technique that refined Easter Egg coloring to the highest plane of folk art.

Pysanky originated way back in the pagan times as a symbol of spring and new birth.

With the advent of Christianity, the decorated eggs came to symbolize the resurrection with its promise of a better world.

The hand decorated eggs are the traditional Easter gifts of the Ukraine in Eastern Europe.

They are decorated with designs that have added messages for the recipient.

Ticket reservations may be obtained from Peg Murphy, Nancy Norbedo, Pat Hennessey, Yvonne Mallen, Rose Di Paolo, Judy Morrison, Mary Ann Rorke,

Mary Ellen Foulds

Elaine Burke, Ellen Farrington Anne Concerni or at the Hospital Gift Shop.

All proceeds will benefit the Bon Secours Hospital building expansion program.

Linen

"Linen-Making in New England, 1640-1860," an exhibition about the importance of linen as a staple fabric in early American households, continues at The Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington, through May 18, 1980.

Although we think of linen as a rarity, this fabric was a workaday cloth in Colonial America. Its decline in importance came about abruptly after the process of making cotton cloth was industrialized. By the 1830's, most Americans had gladly given up the tedious process of making homespun linen in favor of buying cheaper factory-made cloth of cotton, whose fibers more readily adapted to mechanization.

Linen, however, is a superb fabric which has been in use since prehistoric times. Flax, from which the fabric is derived, can be grown in many different climates, and contains fibers that produce an unusually strong, long-lasting cloth. The sheen on the finished linen persists with use and even grows more beautiful with age.

To Present Lenton Program

An all-church Lenton study program will be presented at West Parish Church, Andover, during the month of March. Several courses which span a variety of interests will be led by members of the staff and congregation of four successive Sunday evenings during Lent, March 2, 9, 16, 23.

Participants will gather each Sunday evening at 5:30 for a light supper and a period of worship and fellowship. Following this, each person will participate in a study group to explore an area of individual or family interest.

Mark Peterson, Cab Easton, and Wilson Barry will share a variety of musical experiences in "Musical Potpourri," including an understanding of the vital spirit which has created a rich heritage of church music and a discussion and demonstration of the churchorgan. In another group led by Dr. Otis Maxfield, members will address critical issues regarding the question, "Can a Christian be a Profit Maker?"

Family groups will have an opportunity to discover their family values and examine family interaction in Ruby Easton's "A Family Affair." Bible study will be the focus of Rev. David Duncan's group, "The Resurrection Dilemma"; and a group designed especially for children 7 to 16 will explore with Faith Johnson the enchanted world of C. S. Lewis' "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe" through experiences in dramatic play, painting and discussion.

Babysitting will be provided for those who need the service, and pre-registration is required for all study groups. Further information can be obtained by calling the West Parish Church office, Mrs. Fred Serley, or Mrs. Arthur LaFond.

State Handbook Features Our DCS

Andover's Department of Community Services is featured in a recently published state handbook on community education.

The department was chosen as one of six programs that represent community education in Massachusetts today.

"We consider it an honor to be chosen as one of the six case studies," says Joan Pearson, director of Community Services. "There are not too many programs in the state as comprehensive as ours."

The handbook is part of a series called

"Resources for Schools" published for the Massachusetts Department of Education.

According to the handbook, Andover was selected from among more than 150 communities for its "geographic location, type and size of community, source of financial support, program offerings, overall model structure, and special features." Other factors were also taken into account, the booklet says.

The other communities chosen were Acton-Boxborough, Ashland, Boston, Brockton, and a SEED program serving six neighboring communities in western Massachusetts.

One aspect of Andover's program noted in the handbook is the school department's cooperation from the very beginning of the community service department in 1972. This cooperation resulted in a combination of adult education and recreation activities, rather than an emphasis on physical education activities.

"We are very fortunate in our relationship with the schools," Pearson says. "By combining recreation and adult education, we've avoided running into 'tuff problems', the competition between these two departments that many communities have to cope with."

The handbook also cites municipal funding of the department as a special feature of Community Services. "By making the (Community Service) budget a town priority as opposed to a school priority," the handbook states, "Andover has avoided many of the cutbacks facing schools because of declining enrollments and rising costs."

Joan Pearson

To retain its municipal funding, Community Services must submit a budget to town meeting each year. The budget is presented by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, who oversees the department. However, Pearson is on hand each year "to field any kind of question" from the townspeople.

This year, the department will present a warrant article requesting that Recreation Park Lodge, which burned down two years ago, be rebuilt. A similar article was defeated last year.

"The lodge was the support facility for our whole park area," she explains. "It was used at least 300 times a year we hope to have it rebuilt."

Some daytime adult education classes have also been displaced with the recent closing of the Ballardvale building. "We are really scrounging for a place to hold daytime classes now," Pearson says. "We need to be worked in someplace maybe a section of a school."

In addition to the cooperation and support of the town and school department, the state handbook describes other reasons for the success of Andover's community services program: an administrative and program staff that is both "efficient" and "flexible"; "extensive publicity efforts"; and the "willingness of key officials, including the superintendent, to be open to change."

Community Service's winter/spring program of adult education classes began this week. Classes are also offered in the fall, while during the summer the department concentrates on youth recreation programs.

The department also organizes cultural events, such as the Andover Series and the upcoming Wrong Gong Show, along with special events such as the floor hockey tournament for grade school children held last week.

Community Services would like to see increased community involvement in its programs and activities, Pearson says. "We want to hear more from people about what they'd like us to do," she explains. "We are willing and able to make changes to meet their needs."

Sanborn Teams Play For Floor Hockey Title

For the first time in the history of the Department of Community Services' annual Floor Hockey Tournament, two teams from the same school battled for the championship title. Despite the great effort of Sanborn Circus player, Jamie O'Brien, who scored 10 goals in the tournament (3 in the final game), the Sanborn Strikers became the 1980 Floor Hockey Champs. The even balanced attack of the Strikers proved to be too much for the Circus as Striker players Shannon McCabe and David McDonough led their team to victory by a score of 7 - 4.

Coming into the championship game, the Strikers had outscored their opponents 18-4 behind goal tending efforts of Eric Friedenson and Mosa Kaleel while their scoring punch came from Gregg Najjar and Bruce Crawford. The Circus, on the other hand, had a more difficult time getting to the final round as they had to upset South School's B-Force 4-2 and edge out the Doherty Flyers 6-5 in the semi-final round. Most Valuable Player for the three day tournament was Circus defenseman Chris Suppupo whose fine hustling play prevented opposing teams from organizing plays in the Circus end and thus preventing scoring threats.

In this year's "consolation final" the Doherty Flyers faced-off against the West Elementary Condors to determine the third and fourth place winners. The condors proved to be the better team on that day by defeating the Flyers 5-2. High scoring honors were shared by Condor players Paul Sheedy and Bob Pothier who shot in two goals each.

The Department of Community Services is grateful to all the teams and coaches that helped make this tournament a success. Special thanks go to Mrs. Ruth Shapiro, Doug Buchanan, Pippi Saalfank and Brian Curley whose assistance throughout the competition was greatly appreciated.

Museum To Record Working People's History

People who worked in the Pacific Mills in Lawrence will soon be asked to share their memories of work in the factories. An oral history project, sponsored by the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum is beginning to record interviews with former Pacific Mills employees.

In an effort to recapture a sense of everyday work experience in the textile industry, interviews will be made with those workers willing to share their thoughts. While the project will ultimately include other mills, the Pacific Mills has been selected as a starting point. Few company records of this mill remain, making former employees' memories of the mill especially important.

The project is aimed at insuring that the traditions and history of Lawrence textile workers are not forgotten. Lawrence is known nation-wide for its role in the development of the American textile industry, but very little is known about the daily lives of those who worked in the city's mills. Peoples' recollections about factory life are an extremely valuable but as yet untapped historical resource.

According to Sarah Nordgren, labor historian and project director, "We're interested in talking to women and men about their daily work routines, trade union activity, and how family and community life was affected by the eventual relocation of the mills. We hope to reach people in Andover who worked in all sections of the mill."

Anyone interested in participating in the project is encouraged to contact Sarah Nordgren at the museum, 800 Mass. Ave., North Andover. The museum will also be holding reunions of former mill employees, beginning with a Pacific Mills workers' gathering on April 13. Contact the Museum for further details.

Parking areas will be marked along the side of the entrance road and handicapped parking will be provided at the gymnasium.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter has requested residents to vote early where possible to avoid the usual rush in the dinner or early evening hours.

Salter also advised that voters be prepared to give their precinct location when entering the building to facilitate smooth processing. Enrolled voters will only be able to obtain their party ballot and can not switch parties on election day. Only independent voters have the choice of selecting a party on election day.

Dr. James Kartell

Doctor Halts Burglar

An Andover doctor, member of the Board of Health, held a housebreaker at gunpoint until police arrived late Monday afternoon in an action which may lead to the clearing up of over a dozen local burglaries.

Dr. James Kartell, 29 Brady Loop, returning home about 4:30 p.m. found the suspect, Thomas Cleary, 29, 14 East Pine St., Lowell, loading a car with some household items.

With gun drawn, he left his car and held Cleary and informed a passerby to call police.

Patrolmen James Reilly and Roger Dufresne were able to determine that Cleary was involved in at least 12 or more breaks in the Andover area, along with attempts on additional local homes.

Dr. Kartell, who did not indicate what had been taken from his home, said he did not keep drugs at his residence.

Entrance had been gained through prying open a sliding door. A glass top had been smashed on a chest.

Cleary, arrested on breaking and entering charges, was arraigned in Lawrence District Court Tuesday and ordered to the drug treatment center at Danvers State hospital. His case was continued for hearing.

Lower Enrollment Causes Scaling Down Of Project

By Susan Aucella Deacon

As school enrollments continue to drop, the school building committee last week took another look at architect's plans developed last spring for remodeling parts of West Jr. High and the high school, including the addition of a new high school auditorium.

With smaller numbers of students in mind, the committee directed project architect Gery Dion to design a high school auditorium with a smaller seating capacity, and to aid the school administration in drawing up a new set of educational specifications for West Jr. High.

The revised specifications must be approved by the school committee.

Discussion of the plans for the high school last week centered on the proposed auditorium. The plans drawn up last spring called for a seating capacity of approximately 1500, equalling the number of students.

The school-building committee directed Dion to redreduce the seating capacity to 1250, to equal the smaller number of students now projected for 1983. In that light, they also asked him to reevaluate the "appendage spaces," such as dressing rooms and storage areas, to see if space could be used more efficiently, and the total square footage possibly reduced.

Last year's plans included a "fairly generous" 21,000 sq. ft., Dion said, as well as an 85-ft. wall-to-wall proscenium (stage) opening. On either side of the stage, areas were provided for props and costume storage, make up and dressing rooms, music rooms, and scenery construction.

The auditorium will be designed for use by the community as well as high school students. In choosing a design last year, the school building committee considered "a basic bandbox, a Greek amphitheater, and a compromise between the two," explained Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark.

The committee chose the compromise plan: the new auditorium design, as described by Dion last week, would have a seating capacity just large enough to serve the high school student body, Clark said, but would be "more than just a box."

It would be acoustically treated and have a stage design that would attract community groups. We might even be lucky enough to attract an occasional visiting symphony. "But," he said, "this is not a small civic center it would not be competitive in the entertainment world."

The architect pointed out that in addition tion to serving the community, the auditorium is designed to "enhance your school's cultural aspect, and also provide an area for social contact among students."

The rest of the revised high school plan for the most part would simply reassign existing areas to new uses: for example, areas now used for storage would become physical education team rooms and a faculty dining room. "This is reclaimed space," Dion explained, "where essentially nothing changes."

Dion also told the school building committee he believes "only small modifications" would be necessary in previous plans for West Jr. High to make them suitable for a smaller number of students.

With school committee approval, Dion said he would like to expand the Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C.), or library, and install an internal ramp system for the handicapped.

Further changes would involve only "internal modifications and change of functions," the architect said.

The school building committee and the school committee will hold a joint meeting tonight at 7:30 in town hall.

EJH Conversion On Agenda

By Sue Aucella Deacon

school building article is defeated.

Both the school committee and the school building committee are in favor of this article, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said. "If the schools no longer need the East Jr. High building, then it would be returned to the town," he said. "The townspeople will want to know what we'll do with the building, and how much it will cost."

Selectman Lawrence Sullivan objected to the article, saying there would be "no harm whatsoever in putting this article off until special town meeting in the fall, or even until next spring."

"It will probably be five years before the building is ready for reuse," Sullivan said. "It is not wise to spend the $56,000 now."

Abramson argued that architect's

If town meeting approves the school building committee's plan to close all or part of East Jr. High, the town will be ready to start planning the conversion of the school for town use.

The selectmen Tuesday night voted to insert a warrant article that would appropriate $56,000 for an architectural firm to plan the conversion.

"This is a contingency position" explained selectman Susan Poore, who suggested the article be inserted. "If town meeting votes in favor of the school building committee's bonding issue, it will be helpful to have this article in place, and to have funds available."

The board agreed with Selectman James Abramson when he said the article should be inserted after the school bonding issue, so that it could be withdrawn if the preliminary plans should be started four to five years in advance, while Poore added, "we can't stop the clock at this point. I don't know if town meeting will pass the school issues," she said, "but at least if the planning does fall on our side of the fence, we will be somewhat prepared to deal with it."

The selectmen reopened the warrant Tuesday night and, in addition to inserting the East Jr. High article, withdrew three articles at the town manager's suggestion.

The first article would have appropriated $75,000 to reconstruct the playing field at West Jr. High. However, this will be included in the school building committee's article, Clark said.

The next article withdrawn called for

IDFA Approves Intertel Bonds

The selectmen have welcomed Intertel to town by granting preliminary approval of a $4 million bond in industrial revenue financing to help the company complete construction of a new $4.6 million plant in Andover Technical Park.

Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the local Industrial Development Finance Agency, said the IDFA unanimously approved Intertel's preliminary application for financing Tuesday evening.

"Intertel has filed an environmental impact statement with us," Spiegel told the selectmen later Tuesday night, "and completed it to our satisfaction."

That statement included information on the number of employees ("They envision 400," Spiegel said), traffic, hazardous wastes, and demands on utilities and other municipal services.

In addition, Intertel submitted financial information to the IDFA, Spiegel said, "and we are satisfied that this is a growing company of increasing profitability, capable of paying for the bonds."

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark told the selectmen that, having been granted preliminary approval of the bond, Intertel would now seek state approval.

"We are delighted to be in Andover," Intertel representative William J. Burke told the selectmen. "We are now on a recruiting drive to fill 150 jobs, and hope to occupy the plant in July."

The jobs, Burke said, are in "all areas," including technical, manufacturing, engineering, and accounting.

Intertel manufactures data communications equipment, Burke explained, and counts among its customers "very large banks and Fortune 1000 companies that rely heavily on computers."

Half of the Andover plant will consist of manufacturing, and the other half of engineering, administration and accounting offices, Burke said.

Students Learn Weaving

Twelve fifth and sixth graders from Andover schools are learning the basic skills of weaving at the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum in neighboring North Andover.

The weaving course is only one of several activities put together for gifted and talented children by Janis Baron, coordinator of the program for the Andover schools.

The course was designed by Pam Fisher and Deborah Lerme, two staff members of the Education Department at the museum. Ms. Lerme, who is also teaching the course, is one of ten women employed at doing the tours, classroom presentations and courses offered to area schools by the museum. From February to April, the parents of the young weavers are taking turns bringing them to the museum for classes. Classes are held every other Monday from noon to 2:30. There, the students learn to dress a loom and learn several types of weave as well as practice the manual technique of operating a four harness loom and a rigid headle loom. In addition to weaving, the 12 students also learn about various fibers: wool, cotton, linen and synthetics and about the properties that makes each of them different from the others. They learn, too, that the fiber has to be prepared before it can be woven into fabric; that cotton, for instance, has to be combed, that wool has to be picked and carded, that linen has to be retted and hackled, and that all of them may be dyed.

The students attend the Bancroft, Doherty and South elementary schools.

Last year, a similar course was given to 14 students of the Sanborn, West and Shawsheen schools. However, last year the classes were given at the Shawsheen school because of a lack of space at the museum. Since then, the museum has renovated an entire gallery to be used for instruction such as weaving course, and for other public gatherings.

Another difference between the course as it was given last year, and what is happening this year, is that this year students will display some of their finished products.

A show of the items woven by them will be held at the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, 800 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover on Monday April 14. Relatives and friends of the students are welcome.

A Touch Of The 'Vale May Have To Go

It would appear that the days of the Ballardvale Community Center as a municipal facility are numbered.

Faced with an estimated repair cost of $150,000, to put the building in proper shape, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark feels the town should dispose of the structure through sale of the property. He will make such a recommendation, accompanied by several reports dealing with municipal properties to the selectmen.

Problems arose in the 'Vale building the past few weeks. A weakened foundation caused the building to be closed. Later water pipes burst, compounding the problem. Temporary work is to be done to shore up the foundation area to keep the building from collapsing.

While it may be unfortunate to see an old town facility which once hummed with activity for those in the village. In more recent years, due to deteriorating condition, only limited use of the facility was possible.

The Ballardvale Branch library, housed in the community center, remained the most active use of the structure.

During this period, town officials examined the possibilities of retaining the building and making necessary improvements.

But, in economy moves, the actual work wound up being piecemeal at best, in some cases making the emergency repairs, or correction dangerous code violations.

There had been promises made by some selectmen in the past that the center should be retained as an integral part of this section of Andover.

Last summer, a study group found the 'Vale the last area for major development in Andover and indicated that the unique quality of the area was in the center, with the community building a part of the consideration.

But time has slipped away since those pledges were made and prices, as everyone knows have skyrocketed.

Too, federal and state laws have been enacted, which now govern public buildings, when and if repairs of a substantial nature are made.

In the latter regard, should any major renovation or repair project be undertaken by the town on the Ballardvale building, then architectural barriers to the handicapped would have to be removed.

All of this adds to the total cost of improvements for the building.

We understand that there are code violations in some of the town's other older, municipal buildings which will have to be addressed shortly.

It would appear that the town must face economic priorities in looking at its real estate.

There would appear to be a definite need for a new lodge at Recreation Park. The former lodge, destroyed by fire two years ago, was a part of the town's recreation program and had widespread use as a municipal facility.

Estimated cost for the replacement is $150,000, up from its cost of a year ago when the town failed to fund the project.

It would seem that the funds would be better applied to such a project, than to repair and renovation of a building which would not be adaptable to total community-oriented use.

In these difficult economic times, it is necessary to cast aside nostalgia, no matter how difficult it may be, and look at the cost effectiveness of commitment of municipal funds.

We would judge that on that basis, a new Rec Lodge is far more effective than renovating, then maintaining an old building which well could continue to be a problem to the community in the years ahead.

If the radical divergence of opinions and warmth of argument which characterized the discussion of the school question at the meeting of the League of Women Voters held Tuesday afternoon at Punchard Hall is any criterion of what may be expected on Monday there is promise of lively session.

Widespread interest in the contest for the offices of selectmen, town clerk, and treasurer drew out 3533 voters on Monday (nearly 800 more than last year) resulting in the reelection of Dr. Jeremiah J. Daly as selectman and assessor, Thaxter Eaton as town treasurer, and George A. Higgins as town clerk.

The Andover Historical Society, at a recent meeting, voted to commemorate the three-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and they are now perfecting plans for an interesting and fitting observance of this tercentenary in Andover.

Howard Harrington of Salem St., tenor soloist, will broadcast from station WEEI on Sunday at half-past one o'clock.

The check lists are to be used at the Town Meeting on Monday according to a recent decision by the Board of Selectmen. This will ensure that no one but legal voters will be able to cast a vote in matters of business and that space will not be occupied by idle spectators.

Provisions for a $8 week increase for town employees, erection of a new Town House and a four-room addition to the West School, together with funds to eliminate the Rogers Brook nuisance are contained in the report of the Andover Finance Committee soon to be mailed to Andover voters.

The coming weekend at Abbot Academy will be given over to the Senior Prom. Young men from neighboring and distant schools and colleges will be the guests of the Senior and Senior-Mid classes.

Nicholas Grieco of Andover has been named a member of the Massachusetts subcommittee which is making plans for the dinner to be tendered Italian Prime Minister Mario Scelba and Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York on April 1.

A hearing will be given in the office of the deputy commissioner and director of sanitary engineering, at the State House, Boston, on March 16 at 2 p.m. on the application of the Town of Andover for the acquisition of certain parcels of land on the watershed of Haggett's Pond for the purpose of protecting the town's water supply.

Gilchrist's one of New England's leading department stores, plans to be the major tenant in the Andover shopping mall, proposed new regional center in West Andover, it has been announced by owner-developer A. J. Tambone of Reading.

The Andover Companies, a major insurance firm, was struck by an early morning fire last Thursday morning, causing a half-million dollars in damage to its property.

Tax rate increase predictions range from $7 to $9, as town officials and Finance committee members continue to examine budget and special article requests right up the last minute before the annual town meeting Saturday.

William A. Doherty was honored by the School Committee Tuesday night in recognition of his 39 years' service on the board, the longest continuous service of any school committeeman in Massachusetts.

Three local police officers have made application for attendance at a special drug education program which will be conducted through the office of Attorney General Robert H. Quinn.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

FBI'S ABSCAM Hit Headlines But 'OILSCAM' Hits Taxpayer

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- Washington is buzzing with stories of the FBI's "sting" operation known as ABSCAM. Agents posing as Arab sheiks made payoffs to politicians, who were filmed accepting cash bribes.

But there is another current scandal which affects the average citizen's pocket-book in a far more direct way. We call it OILSCAM.

We have described in the past how the oil companies have pushed up prices. There was the "daisy-chain" caper, wherein oil cargoes were shifted from one dummy company to another, with each phony firm taking a profit which was added to the final price. These were nothing but paper transactions that were carried out for the sole purpose of escalating the price.

We also exposed the phony gas shortage last year. The oil companies claimed the Iranian crisis had reduced world production. This had caused a drop, so they said, in oil imports to the United States. So the oil companies delivered less gas to service stations, and motorists were forced to line up at the pumps. This was used as an excuse to drive up gas prices.

But we got hold of the Central Intelligence Agency's figures. These showed that other countries had made up the loss in Iranian oil, that world production was higher than the previous year and that imports to the United States had infact increased.

Now the oil industry is claiming that its latest price hikes were necessary because of the increased costs of crude oil and refinery operations. But investigators for the House Energy and Power Subcommittee have told us a different story.

The investigators found that the major oil companies did no cost analysis last year. So the huge price increases were not based on higher costs. Instead, the investigators found that most of the major firms charge what the market will bear.

The market price is determined largely by an industry pricing sheet called the Platts Oilgram. The investigators were told that the Oilgram can be rigged to show high prices.

Gulf Oil's district manager in Philadelphia admitted to the investigators that he priced aggressively over the last year, using the Oilgram as a guide. He ordered 28 price increases over the past 17 months. The reason: He thought that was what the market would bear.

GLEEFUL WHITE HOUSE: Eight members of Congress have been implicated in the FBI's ABSCAM operation, seven of them Democrats. A reasonable observer might conclude that this would cause consternation at the White House. But, say our sources, the president's advisers have greeted the news with suppressed glee.

Behind the scenes, there has been constant tension between the White House and Capitol Hill. The Georgians on the president's staff have never become wise to the ways of Washington. They have never quite mastered the political art of back-slapping and back-scratching, as it is practiced in Congress.

Many of the lawmakers, Democrats and Republicans alike, have little respect for the White House staff. Carter's aides, said one powerful congressman, were "the sorriest White House staff I've ever seen."

The people at the White House are aware of this attitude. This is the reason, say our sources, that they are secretly enjoying the discomfort of the Democrats on Capitol Hill.

WATCH ON WASTE: Every year, some $50 million in public funds are spent for rent and living quarters allowances for American diplomats around the world. The government could save a fortune by buying property instead of getting caught up in inflated rental payments, but Congress has refused to authorize the money.

Incredibly, the State Department pays exorbitant rates in some of the poorest countries in the world. In poverty-stricken Bangladesh, for example, the No. 2 officer in the U.S. Embassy lives in a house that rents for nearly $2,000 a month. In Algeria, one diplomat's house rents for $55,000 a year.

At those prices, the federal government would do better to buy palaces for U.S. officials.

ENERGY MESS: President Carter has branded 1980 The Year of Conservation and claimed recently that the nation will derive 20 percent of its energy from renewable resources by the year 2000. But the president's new budget shows absolutely no increase in the government's commitment to solar power or conservation. In fact, the funds available for conservation research and development have actually decreased. Most new energy money will go to synthetic fuel operations which will be run by the giant corporations that got us into the energy mess in the first place.

CAREER CONFLICT: Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Patricia Harris has forbidden officials of her agency to talk to members of Congress unless they receive prior clearance from the top. Rep. Andy Jacobs, D-Ind., isn't too happy about the decree -- his wife just happens to work for HEW. Jacobs recently complained that his marriage might be considered "unauthorized contact."

SCOOP'S SCOOP: Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., can take credit for being the most far-sighted lawmaker on the Hill. He wrote an article 24 years ago predicting that the Soviets would one day invade Afghanistan.

These games are scheduled for Friday (6:00 p.m. - Brooks School); Saturday (9:00 a.m. - P.A.); and Sunday (12:30 p.m. - Brooks).

Andover 13 North Toronto 1

The first game of the Canadian series was a mismatch between Andover and the North Toronto Selects with Andover prevailing by a 13 to 1 score. Joey Germano, Greg Sacco, and Rob Calder each notched a three-goal hat trick for Andover while single goals were tallied by Jeff Runge, Ken Crawford, J. J. Downey, and Tom Duncan.

Andover 4 Forest Hill 3

On Tuesday night Andover's second game in Toronto proved to be much more of a test. After scoring four first period goals the Andover sextet held on defensively for a 4-3 victory in a very physical game. Scoring for Andover were Germano (2), Downey, and Runge. Scott Round and Karl Fredrickson shared duties in the nets as they did in the game number one.

Track Team Places Fourth

The Andover High School Indoor Track team completed its season with a fourth place finish in the State Class B Meet held at Harvard University on Feb. 18. There were several outstanding performances and two new Andover indoor records set by Warrior runners during the course of the meet.

Fishing Workshop To Begin

The department of community services in cooperation with the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife will sponsor a series of fishing workshops under the Urban Angler program. The series will consist of five workshops each emphasizing a different aspect of the fishing world. All classes will be held at the Andover High School in Room 101 from 7 — 9 p.m.

The first workshop, which will be held on Friday, Feb. 29, is entitled "Introduction to the Urban Angler" and will cover such material as basic fishing terminology and care and selection of fishing tackle. The second workshop scheduled for Friday, March 28 is entitled "Fish Habits and Habitat" and is designed to teach the participants what fish eat, where fish live and environmental effects on urban fish. The third workshop called "Cast a Line Safely," will be held on Friday, May 9 and will cover the use and maintenance of the fishing equipment. Workshop four is entitled "Cook Your Catch" and will delve into the art of fish preparation. The fifth and final workshop is entitled "Hot Spots" and will be held "out in the field" using a local pond for instruction.

For more information, contact the Department of Community Services.

Sable Fur

Sable fur varies from black to bright yellow, but usually it is dark brown. The "golden fleece" that Jason brought from Colchis (between the Black and Caspian Seas) to Greece may have been sable fur, Mass. Audubon tells us.

Warrior miler Rick Jennings established a new Andover indoor mile record by clocking a 4:23.6 in his event and at the same time grabbing second place in the meet. Rick's time breaks the old record held by George Itz.

Andover's fine shot putter Noel Pizarro placed third in the meet with a heave of 50 ft. 9 ins.

The 300-yard run yielded excellent performances by runners Jim Lacourse and Bob Flaherty. Lacourse scored third in the event with a time of 32.6 with Flaherty close behind? or fourth place in 33.1. Lacourse's time is the second fastest time ever run by an Andover runner in the 300 and was only .1-second off the record held by Rick Collins. Bob Flaherty's 33.1 also ranks him with the fastest 300 times recorded in Warrior indoor track.

Bob Wilkins, Andover's outstanding athlete, was able to overcome an injury and a bout with the flu to score sixth in the high jump with a leap of six feet.

The Warriors competed in three other events and did not score, however fine performances were turned in by these athletes. Jeff Barlow ran the 1000 with his personal best performance of the season at 2:23.6. Jeff Guterman, a sophomore sprinter, ran the 50 yard dash in a time of 5.9.

The mile relay team set a new Andover High indoor record of 3:34.6. The previous record was set by Rick Collins, Ed Darling, Andy Chatto and Paul Keefe. The new record was set by Jim Lacourse, Noel Pizarro, Bob Flaherty and Rick Jennings.

Haverhill won the championship with Falmouth, Weymouth South, Andover, and Methuen rounding out the top five teams, in the order.

Andover 5 Canadian Corps 8

On Thursday, Coach Dick Neal's squad faced off against the Oshawa Canadian Corps Blues.

The Oshawa team came out flying and built up an 8-1 lead by early in the third period. Andover continued to pursue, however, and scored four goals late in the game to bring the final tally to 8-5.

Lamplighters for Andover were Germano (3), Sacco, and Downey.

Andover 6 Oshawa Bruins 2

On Friday evening Andover rebounded from the loss of the night before with a very solid performance as they downed the Oshawa Bruins 6-2. Greg Sacco led the scoring parade with four goals while Ray Orner and Jim Daly tallied one each.

Andover 2 Canadian Corps 3

Saturday morning, before heading for home, Andover again took on the Canadian Corps.

Andover played a very strong game and shut down the Canadian Corps attack. On goals by Runge and Sacco Andover led by a 2-1 score with less than 5 minutes to play. Oshawa tied the game with 4:11 left and then a pair of penalties to Andover provided the Oshawa team with a two-man advantage and the opening for the winning goal which came with only 28 seconds remaining.

In addition to the games played on the ice Andover also played a very exciting close wheelchair hockey game with residents of the Bloorview Crippled Children's Hospital, an annual event.

Andover's overall record now stands at 22-25-5 for the season. The upcoming weekend series with the team from Oshawa (first place finishers in their league) promises to provide some exciting hockey for local followers.

Resolve Preceded Bantams

When Andover's Traveling Bantam A Youth Hockey Team journeys in Toronto for the 15th year, the greetings of the Massachusetts House of Representatives will have preceded them.

The House recently sent along a message that held a timely political note as well: they acknowledged the harboring of Americans in Canada's embassy in Tehran.

"This year's international exchange is particularly poignant to all the citizens of the Commonwealth," it read, "who reflect with admiration and heartfelt appreciation upon the selfless and heroic assistance rendered in a hostile land to our vulnerable countrymen by our nation's most steadfast and valued friend."

"Mindful that young people such as these enthusiastic and disciplined 13 and 14-year-old athletes represent our continent's greatest responsibility and hope for the future," it went on, "we of the Chamber, many of whom have shared with our Canadian cousins and allies the peculiar comradery born of a common cause and a foreign field, earnestly pray that in healthy competition will be forged an enduring respect, mutual understanding and abiding friendship between the younger generations of our contiguous lands that will do much to ensure that our proud countries, bound by unrivalled affection and trust, will forever remain 'true north strong and free.'"

The House expressed its "sincere gratitude for the exemplary hospitality, goodwill and many kindnesses uniformly bestowed upon citizens of the Commonwealth who are privileged to visit the northern shore of Lake Ontario."

The resolution, sponsored by Andover's State Representative Gerald M. Cohen, was sent to Toronto's Director of Parks and Recreation.

Squirt 'A' Team

State Tournament - Overtime
Andover 4 Gloucester 5

The Squirt A's, undermanned but not outthrustled, took on Gloucester in the opening round of the state tournament. Andover scored first when Matt Young, on a rink-long rush, fired a low shot past the Gloucester goalie for a 1-0 Andover lead. Gloucester scored two goals near the end of the period and led 2-1 at the end of the first period.

In the second period, Andover did everything but score. Matt Alden, Chris Sapuppo and Dave Riddiford peppered the Gloucester goalie, but could not score.

The third period started with Gloucester holding a 3-1 lead. This quickly changed when David Riddiford banged in Matt Alden's rebound to close the gap to 3-2. Less than two minutes later, Andover tied the game when Mark Berberian set up Kyle McCabe, who drove a shot low into the corner. Good forechecking by Pat Breen, Brent Raftery and Tom Tormey kept Gloucester bottled up in their end.

With five minutes left in the game, Gloucester went ahead on a powerplay goal. Not to be denied, Andover came right back. Good forechecking and hustle by Jamie O'Brien, Peter Trede, Kyle McCabe and Chris Sapuppo paid dividends when Chris Sapuppo banged in a loose puck. Throughout the game, Andover's goalies, Chris Hansberry and James Berberian, performed admirably, making key saves to keep the game close.

With less than two minutes left in regulation play, Andover scored what appeared to be the winning goal, only to have it disallowed by the referee, who said he thought the Gloucester goalie had the puck under his pads.

Since this was tournament play, sudden death overtime was played. The team which scores first is the winner. Andover was clearly the dominant team in the overtime period, but could not score. Gloucester had three powerplays in a row at the end of the period, which finally resulted in a score with three seconds left in the first overtime period.

Danvers League

Andover 4 Danvers 3

The Squirt A's, having lost seven of their eighteen players to the flu and vacation, showed heart and determination in beating a good Danvers team. The whole team played a super game, especially Matt Alden and Pat Breen, who each scored two goals and assisted on another.

Andover scored first when Matt Alden converted a fine pass from Chris Sapuppo for a 1-0 lead. Midway through the first period, Danvers began to dominate play and scored two quick goals. Only the excellent goaltending of Andover's James Berberian kept Danvers from scoring any ore goals in the period.

In the second period, Andover started to regain control of the game, Andover's defense would not let Danvers out of their zone. On numerous occasions, the defensive pairing of Matt Young and Peter Trede, and Mark Berberian and Tom Torey, made good plays at the blueline and drove the puck back into the Danvers' end. This relentless pressure resulted in two quick Andover goals. Pat Breen stole the puck and fired a low shot into the corner. Then, less than a minute later, Pat set up Matt Alden for the go-ahead score

The marathon was a 25-mile run from 1896 when the Games began, until 1908, when the distance was increased by one mile. The marathon was held in England that year, and the British Olympic Committee decided to start the race at Windsor Castle and finish it at the Royal Family's box in a London stadium.

Bowdoin Merrimack To Meet

Although Bowdoin and Merrimack have already played three hockey games this year, the two colleges will meet on the ice again before the 1979-80 season is officially over.

Sidney J. (Sid) Watson, Coach of Bowdoin, announced today that a pair of alumni games between hockey graduates of the two colleges will be played in the Volpe Complex at Merrimack March 22.

The first game, which will feature "old-timers" (all players through the Class of 1972) will start at 5:30 p.m. The younger players will compete in the second contest of the twin bill.

A social hour for alumni of both colleges will be held after the games.

Coach Watson asked Bowdoin alumni who plan to compete to write or call him as soon as possible. Merrimack is coached by Bruce E. Parker, a 1963

Bowdoin alumnus who formerly played for Watson's Bowdoin teams.

Andover Hockey

and the period ended with Andover holding a 3-2 lead. The third period was no different from the second. Andover applied relentless pressure. Kyle McCabe, Dana Forbes and Brent Raftery swarmed all over the Danvers end but could not score a goal. Finally, Pat Breen, assisted by Matt Alden, scored to put the game away for Andover. This was truly a herculean effort by an undermanned Andover team. Although small in stature, these boys stood ten feet tall when the game was over.

Wilmington League

Andover 1 Nashua, N.H. 1

The Andover Squirt A's have worked hard and continued to improve throughout the year. This was very evident last Saturday when they had a rematch with a very strong Nashua, New Hampshire team. Earlier in the year, they had been soundly beaten by this same team; however, things were a little different this time, as the game ended in a 1-1 tie.

Throughout the game, both teams had numerous scoring chances, only to be denied by excellent goaltending. Once again, James Berberian made one big save after another. The only goal scored by Nashua was from a scramble in front and James had no chance to make the save.

On Defense, Peter Trede, Mark Berberian, Jaie O'Brien, Matt Young and Tom Tormey were outstanding. They broke up many rushes at the blueline and were able to clear the puck from the Andover zone.

The first and third periods were scoreless, but not without excitement. The line of Kyle McCabe, Pat Breen and Brent Raftery had some good scoring chances, only to be denied by good goaltending. Nashua scored first but the lead was short-lived. Less than three minutes after the Nashua goal, with Andover buzzing around the Nashua net, David Riddiford dug the puck out of the corner and fed Chris Sapuppo for a shot on goal. The Nashua goalie made the save but Matt Alden banged the rebound home to tie the game.

Andover was assessed six minor penalties in the third period and, consequently, played short-handed for a good portion of the time. There were some trying moments while Andover was killing off the penalties. Only super performances by Robert Stoltz, Mark Neaves and Steven Donovan in killing off the penalties kept Nashua from scoring.

Pee Wee 'B'

The flu took its toll on the Pee Wee B's during vacation week as they played and lost four games. The B's were missing at least four key players in each game which necessitated constant line and defense adjustments.

TRITON 3 ANDOVER 1

The B's played Triton, the first place team in the Danvers Twin Rinks League, on Monday night and lost 3-1 in a very close, well played game. Andover's goalies David Barry and Kenny Young played outstanding games, as did defenseman Matt Shine and Mark Paskowsky. Triton scored late in the first period to take the lead. Timmy Donovan, Paul Fuchs and Chris Madden each had excellent rushes but were denied by a very good Triton goaltender. Billy Bruno finally broke through and tied it up with only forty seconds left in the period, converting a good pass from Tommy Herling. Triton scored twice in the second period despite some very nice work by defensemen John Gangi and Sandy MacNeish and forwards Shannon McCabe and Jeff McNeil. The third period was scoreless, despite constant Andover pressure. David Young had several good rushes but could not get the puck by the Triton goalie.

BEVERLY 7 ANDOVER 3

The Pee Wee B's entered a single elimination tourney in Beverly on Tuesday and played well but lost to a very physical Beverly team 7-3. Andover led 2-0 on first period goals by Paul Fuchs, on a nice pass from Mark Paskowsky, and Timmy Donovan on a solo effort. Beverly then began hitting and wore down the shorthanded B's. David Barry turned in an excellent game in goal despite the score. The B's other goalie, Kenny Young, filled in at forward and played very well, as did forwards Ronnie Forbes, Tommy Herling and Chris Madden. Jeff McNeil scored Andover's third goal late in the game, converting a nice pass from Billy Bruno. Andover's defensemen John Gangi and

THE TOWNSMAN, FEBRUARY 28, 1980

Bantam Division The Sport Shop 5 North Andover Supply 5

North Andover Supply scored with less than a minute to play to gain a 5-5 tie with The Sport Shop Saturday at Phillips Academy. Rick McCloskey scored two goals and assisted on a third for The Sport Shop, while Bill Dalton contributed a goal and an assist.

The Sport Shop 4 North Andover Supply 3

Tom Finneran scored the winning goal Sunday as The Sport Shop defeated North Andover Supply 4-3 at Brooks School. Bill Dalton opened the scoring for The Sport Shop assisted by Mike Alden. Burke and Mark Harrington scored goals three and four with Rick McCloskey assisting on both goals. Mike Alden turned in his finest performance of the season according to coach Jerry Bolduc. The win improved The Sport Shop's record to 5-4-1.

Pee Wee Division

New Indian Ridge Country Club 6 Olympic Sport Shop 5

Mark Dorsey's hat trick and Jeff DiDonato's goaltending carried New Indian Ridge Country Club to a 6-5 win over Olympic Sport Shop Sunday at Brooks School.

Dorsey opened the scoring with an unassisted goal early in the first period. Lukas Wennick put New Indian Ridge up by two with Mike Keyes and Tim Higgins assisting. After Don Cannava and Greg Tormey combined to close the gap to 2-1, Tim Higgins scored an unassisted goal to put New Indian Ridge back on top 3-1. Cannava scored his second goal to make it 3-2 with Brian Costello assisting only to have Dorsey combine with brother Steve and Tim Higgins to put the Ridge back on top by two. Sean Tetler and Greg Tormey helped Cannava bring Olympic back to tie the score late in the game. New Indian Ridge fought back, however, as Dorsey wrestled the puck from an Olympic defenseman at his own blue line and went in alone to make the score 5-4. With time running out Lukas Wennick picked up a loose puck in front and slid it over to Hughie Maginnis for the winning goal. Cannava closed the scoring with John Twomey assisting as the buzzer sounded.

Sandy MacNeish worked very hard and turned in excellent games as did forward David Young. The boys deserved a better fate but were forced to play with out several key players.

SOMERVILLE 5 ANDOVER 1

The third of the four vacation week games was played in Wilmington on Saturday morning against a strong Somerville team. Defenseman Matt Shine played an outstanding game with several fine rushes. Goalies David Barry and Kenny Young also turned in good efforts as the B's were again shorthanded. Andover put on some early pressure as Timmy Donovan, Ronnie Forbes and Paul Fuchs had strong bids turned away. Somerville then scored three goals, despite some solid defensive work by Sandy MacNeish and John Gangi. The B's put more pressure on during the second period but could not score. Andover's effort was led by center Tommy Herling, who played an excellent all round game, aided by linemates Chris Madden and Larry Prestia. In the third period, after Shannon McCabe had hit the post on a fine rush, Andover finally scored, as David Young converted a beautiful pass from Jeff McNeil. The game ended with another Andover flurry, but the Somerville goalie was able to turn everything away.

LYNNFIELD 3 ANDOVER 2

The B's lost a chance to move up in the Danvers Twin Rinks League, on Saturday night losing 3-2 to Lynnfield, a team behind them in the standings. Kenny Young, usually a goalie, played his second game of the week as a forward and scored Andover's first goal on a tip-in of twin brother David's shot from the faceoff circle. Lynnfield then scored twice, once late in the first period, and the second late in the second period. David Barry turned away several other Lynnfield scoring bids, while Matt Shine and John Gangi were turning in their usual steady efforts on defense. Andover tied the game 2-2 early in the third period, as Shannon McCabe put in a rebound of a Paul Fuchs shot. Ronnie Rorbes and Larry Prestia then had chances to put the B's in the lead but were burned back. Lynnfield took a 3-2 lead on a breakaway with less than 2 minutes left. Andover then got a faceoff in the Lynnfield end and pulled goalie David Barry. A unit made up of Timmy Donovan, David Young, Tommy Herling, Jeff McNeil, Sandy MacNeish and Matt Shine then put great pressure on Lynnfield. Matt got off a strong slap shot just before the buzzer but the Lynnfield Goalie gloved it waist high to preserve the victory. The B's have missed defenseman Brian Gibson over the past several games and hope to have him back soon.

Little League Tryouts

Major league tryouts are set for both the National and American little leagues. The National league dates are Saturday, March 15 from 8:30 to 4:30 and Sunday, March 23 from 12:30 to 4:30 and Saturday March 22 from 8:30 to 4:30.

The tryouts will consist of coaches pitching balls, and generally observing batting, catching and fielding of children.

Only players 10 thru 12 who want to be considered by a major league team should come. Players should bring a glove and be present at the tryouts 15 minutes before the starting time for checkin. Only players with sneakers will be allowed to participate because of the special indoor surface at the Phillips Academy Cage.

PANTHERS 32 COUGARS 14

The Panthers stayed on top of the league with a 32 to 14 win over the Cougars behind the shooting of Steven Redgate and the defense of Mike Kramer and Robert Stoltz. Kyle Marcella and Jim Flowers were all over the floor during the first half for the Cougars as they caused the Panthers many problems. Last year's foul shooting contest winner.

Andy Lascher, dropped in two more foul shots during the first half to show that he has not lost his touch. Derek Brucato had the hot hand in the second half as he threw in four of his eight points to keep the Panthers ahead by a safe margin. Kurt Burzlaff pulled down his usual amount of rebounds for the Cougars.

TIGERS 31 BEARS 24

The fast improving Bears with a spirited second half comeback put a scare into the Tigers but it was just not enough as Geoff Bolan found the range with some clutch shooting and the Tigers won by a 31 to 24 score. Steven Prockniak and Barry Lannon both played some very heads-up basketball during the first half for the Tigers as they held an eight point margin at the half time.

The second half found Matt Dorsey, Patrick Burns and Scott Powers for the Bears get the hot shooting hands as they came roaring back. Jose Guerra and Derek Holmes were outstanding defensively for the Bears along with Jimmy Halice for the Tigers but in the end it came down to the sharp shooting of Geoff Bolan. Barry Connors also had six points in the important fourth period.

LIONS 26 LEOPARDS 23

In the closest game of the night the hustling Lions behind the outstanding play of John Twoomey beat the hard luck Leopards by a 26 to 23 score. Chris Nelson and Rajiv Sheel both played an outstanding floor game for the Lions during the first half to keep the Leopards off balance. Lisa Horgan again pulled down the important rebounds for the Lions and George Philipp was the top rebounder for the Leopards.

I write the above to put a sense of balance into the situation and to relieve the citizenry from the bureen The Andover Townsman report seems to put on the commuters. Over and above my personal preference for commuter rail, my conviction is that the future will make it a necessity of government. Jon Daly played an alert third period for the Lions as they held an 18 to 12 lead going into the fourth period. In the fourth period John Perry found the range and David Friedensan played very good defense and the Leopards starte d to inch closer and closer. In the last two minutes of the game John Twomey sank two beautiful driving layups to provide the winning points for his team.

Carpooling is one answer to conserving energy. The U.S. Dept. of Transportation's Federal Highway Administration estimated in 1975 that a driver can save $281 to $654 a year on a 20-mile daily roundtrip by carpooling. It's more now, of course.

Tobacco's Role

Tobacco has always played a crucial role in the history, economics, politics and social customs of this nation. It was even used to finance the American Revolution: In 1776 Benjamin Franklin borrowed two million French pounds on a promise to deliver 5,000 hogsheads of tobacco, which was the principal crop of the great Tidewater plantations of Virginia.

"One of the Ten Best Cars For a Changed World"

It may well be that overall the Audi 5000 has been our most successful long-term test car project. We accumulated mileage at a blistering pace, had a constant list of drivers anxious to use the car. Everyone on our staff still looks forward to driving the Audi, particularly when it comes to carrying four or five adults or a family with children on trips. And while it has not been the least expensive car we've tested for 48,000 miles, it has returned the most value — it's been the most comfortable, has been relatively trouble free, and has delivered very good fuel economy relative to its size and carrying capacity. After living with it for more than 48,000 miles, we don't have any qualms in reaffirming our praise of the Audi 5000 as one of the Ten Best Cars for a Changed World. The breakdown of commercial, industrial and residential units remained the same, with residential representing 78 per cent of the total, industrial 15 per cent and commercial seven per cent.

Increased industrial development helped offset a decrease in the number of commercial units assessed.

There were 82 industrial units assed in Fiscal '80 for a total valuation of $40,293,- 500, as compared to 77 the year before at $39,511,000.

In the commercial category, there were 150 units in 1979, with a total value of $18,883,200 while in the FY '80 there were 20 units less and a value of $18,407,400.

Sugar, Not Pills

When Renaissance Europeans got sick, they didn't take sugar-coated pills — they took sugar. When sugar cane was first introduced to Europe, it was considered a medicine.

Class Rings

Since the 1930's, class rings have become for many high school students the symbol of their class and school. Today more than 2 million class rings are sold each year. Until fairly recently most were made of 10 karat gold, but in 1978, one quarter of the high school class rings made by one manufacturer were non-gold alloys. That figure rose to one-third in 1979 and will probably rise even higher with the price of gold.

Saving Fuel

Lowering your thermostat from 72 to 69 degrees Fahrenheit can mean as much as a 10 percent fuel savings in a house. Reducing it another five degrees can increase savings another 10 percent.

RANCH OR TWO — STORY

The two basic structures of single family homes are the ranch
and the two-story home.
They both have their pros and cons and the ultimate decision normally rests with the individual's style of living and needs.

A ranch is appealing
since living is all on one floor and there are no steps to climb.
However, a ranch has disadvantages as well.
A one-story house takes up more space on it's lot and it has greater foundation cost per square foot of interior living space.

You can get the same interior size on half the amount of foundation in a two-story home.

Construction cost per square foot is reduced to a minimum in a two-story house. Despite this cost-saving factor, the national trend has been and still is strongly toward one-story homes. Homeowners
don't seem to like climbing stairs. Remember though, climbing stairs is said to be good for your heart, and so is more house for less construction cost.

If there is anything
we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in
at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., An-
doover. Phone: 475-5100.
We're here to help.

Control

Being in control of the development of land, we are careful to retain as much as possible the original contour and protect the maximum amount of natural landscaping. Thus we build a neighborhood that is pleasant to look at and comfortable to live in.

South School Pupil Abducted, Freed

A ten-year-old girl, on her way to South School Monday morning was abducted by a youthful motorist, but fortunately escaped unharmed after a half-hour trip to Wilmington and back.

Police are seeking a male, 18 to 20 years of age, with a slight beard, who dragged the youngster into his tan, two-door car about 8:30 a.m. Monday as she was walking along Woburn street.

The man drove the youngster to a gravel pit area in Wilmington about a mile away, then returned her unharmed and untouched about 9 a.m.

The Monday incident was of a more serious nature than other problems which have been reported to police in recent weeks involving youngsters being confronted by males exposing themselves.

Sgt. Richard Enos of the Andover police reported this week that such incidents are often seasonal in nature, and that recent weather conditions have resulted in such problems happening earlier than usual.

He and Police Chief James Johnson advise that parents should have a talk with their children emphasizing the dangers of being confronted by strangers, and accepting rides from unknowns.

Police and school officials should be notified promptly of any activity of this type in the community.

Selectmen

$7000 appropriation to maintain the railroad platform at Shawsheen Station. "We have found that only one to three people use that station each day," Clark explained, "and it does not appear prudent to consider this article for the benefit of one to three people."

The last article withdrawn before the warrant was closed again called for the town to acquire land behind the library belonging to Cyr Oil Co. "The company has valid reasons to retain this land, since they need it for truck access," Clark said. "It would be very expensive for the town to acquire."

The selectmen also heard a report on the town's revaluation program. Clark suggested that the town's contract with the P.R.C. Jacobs Co. for a computer-assisted equalized valuation program should provide for yearly maintenance or updating of information.

The selectmen chose not to add that provision, but instead asked Clark to explore "several different options for maintenance," Chairman Edward Harris said.

In other business, the board approved the transfer of $180,000 from the compensation fund to the personal services account, to meet pay increases that have resulted from labor negotiations.

Clark noted that reserve funds, which are intended for emergencies, would not be tapped to meet the pay increases. Instead, the town will use surplus funds from other budget areas, he said.

"We are being very frugal on salaries, and leaving reserve funds there for the unexpected," the town manager said.

The selectmen also approved a letter of protest to Governor King drafted by the chairman. The state has sharply reduced its budget for renting county courthouses, Harris said, with the balance to be paid from real estate taxes in each city or town.

"We are trying to stay within a 4% tax increase," Harris told the board, "and this action makes that even more difficult to do. The burden should not fall on our real estate taxes."

Pulse Watch

About the turn of the 18th century a British physician named Sir John Floyer invented a watch which only ran for one minute — to measure pulse rates.
